

"Why are you so tired today?"
"I usually count sheep at night, but last night I decided to count transitional species. And I laid awake all night trying to get up to one."