

"Evolutionary scientists have decided that no creatures had chromosomes, and DNA until recently. Otherwise chromosome and DNA counts would agree with our theory of what things evolved from what."

"We are happy to announce that, after 25 years of studying into plant and animal similarities, the fact that animals have arms and legs remains our best proof of evolution. The 'pentadactyl limb' is the great proof of evolution!"